PULL-UP

Waxed with natural oils and waxes, with a writing surface: every fold and mark becomes part of the design.

Pull-Up leather is treated with natural oils and waxes: with movement and tension the surface lightens, with the writing effect typical of waxed leathers. Every fold, pressure mark or scratch develops the material and deepens its lived-in look. A warm, soft handle and a natural grain: for products with authentic character that improve with age. You choose it knowing it will change: every fold lightens and the mark stays. On a bag or an armchair with character that is exactly the point; on a covering that has to stay even over time, it is not. The shades can be compared side by side in browse by colour, which gathers every shade in the catalogue. A stock product: it is available immediately and ships within 24/48 hours in Italy. Before committing to a quantity, it is worth requesting samples from the sample moodboard.
